
LGC Hair Restoration Celebrates 5 Years, Moves To New Location

By Amy Schechter

When a small business reaches its five-year anniversary, it is a huge milestone. Laura Craig is celebrating this achievement with LGC Hair Restoration moving to Elite Salon Suites in the Brandon Crossroads plaza. From this new locale, she will be able to provide her clients with the same life-changing, non-surgical permanent hair loss solutions, in a more comfortable, but equally private environment.

Craig is so excited and thankful to be able to continue helping people realize the self-image they desire after five years in the community: "At the beginning I wasn't nervous, but as I put my heart and soul into growing this business, I realized how I just had to make this work. I have clients that really count on me, and this just pushes me to keep going. I really have a good bunch of people. They are so appreciative and caring."

With nearly 30 years of experience as a stylist, Craig specializes in helping clients who experience hair loss to restore their positive self-images through a variety of techniques including: non-surgical medical grafting, non-surgical permanent or semi-permanent hair replacement, hair extensions, and private, personalized wig
